Legal and contract management simplified

Managing production and talent contracts by the hundreds can be a time consuming task

Having to manually search through document folder repositories for specific contract terms is not only a hassle, but it's time consuming and eats away at valuable resources. Easy access into contract insights is non-existent with manual contract management; which limits your ability to quickly deliver and negotiate contract terms. This form of manual contract management leaves room for error, mismanagement, and can even cause interruptions downstream halting production on large revenue driving projects.

FilmTrack's BizAffairs Contract Management solution, helps you turn around executed contracts quickly while reducing manual errors, saving you time, and lowering costs. Our solution streamlines the contract creation process to help reduce manual errors and allows you to schedule user defined calendar reminders for important contract deadlines so you never miss a date.
